Your Public Library Card

www.mls.lib.il.us

...here are some things you should know

Because your library is a member of the Metropolitan Library System, your new library card will be honored

- at your home library
- at any of the public libraries in the Metropolitan Library System (See the list on the reverse of this page)
- at cooperating academic libraries in MLS (See the list on the reverse of this page)
- at public libraries in several other library systems in Illinois, including Chicago Public Library, if your home library participates in this inter-system agreement (check with your library).

You are responsible for all materials borrowed on your card. Remember

- do not lend your card to friends and relatives
- report any loss or damage to materials borrowed on your card so prompt settlement can be arranged
- notify the library immediately if your card is lost; a lost or damaged card can be replaced -a modest service fee may be charged (check with your library)

Return materials promptly to the library from which they were borrowed on or before their due date. If you happen to keep materials overdue,

- the local library will apply its own policy for late return of its own materials
- materials returned to a library other than the one where the were borrowed may incur an additional overdue fine
- when materials from other MLS member libraries are overdue for an extended period of time, the account may be forwarded to a collection agency.

If you receive an overdue notice and believe it is an error

- double-check to make sure you have returned everything listed on the notice
- notify either the library or MLS as soon as possible - the overdue notice will indicate who sent it.

If you move, be sure to notify the library of your new address.

If you happen to move to another community, please turn in your present card and re-register at your new library.

Ask your librarian about other MLS services available to you through your library.
